PARK COLLEGE
at Parkville

D · E · D · I · C · A · T · I · O · N

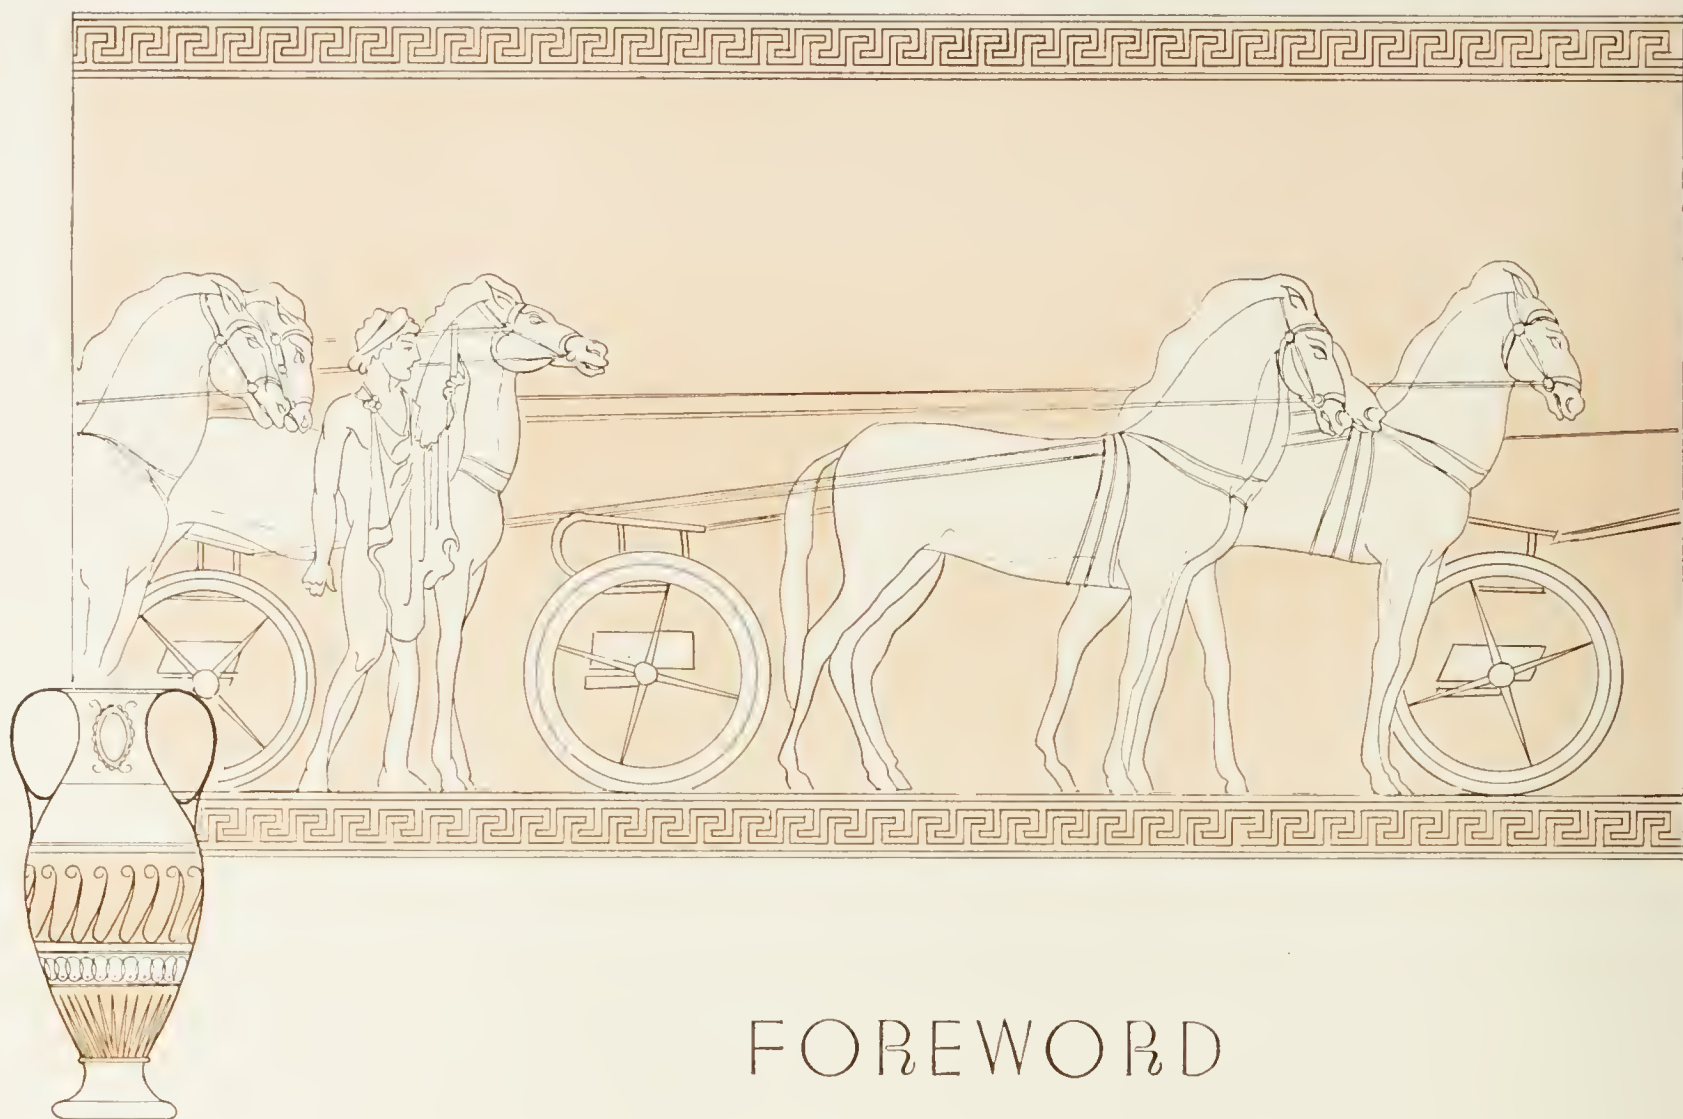

With the deepest appreciation, this annual of Park College is dedicated to Dr. Arthur L. Wolfe, a faithful servant and a true friend to Park. Dr. Wolfe has served Park longer than any member of the faculty—this being his fortieth anniversary of teaching here. His lofty ideals, his keen interest in the teeming youth about him, and his love of the classics and their beauty, have made him more than valuable to us all.

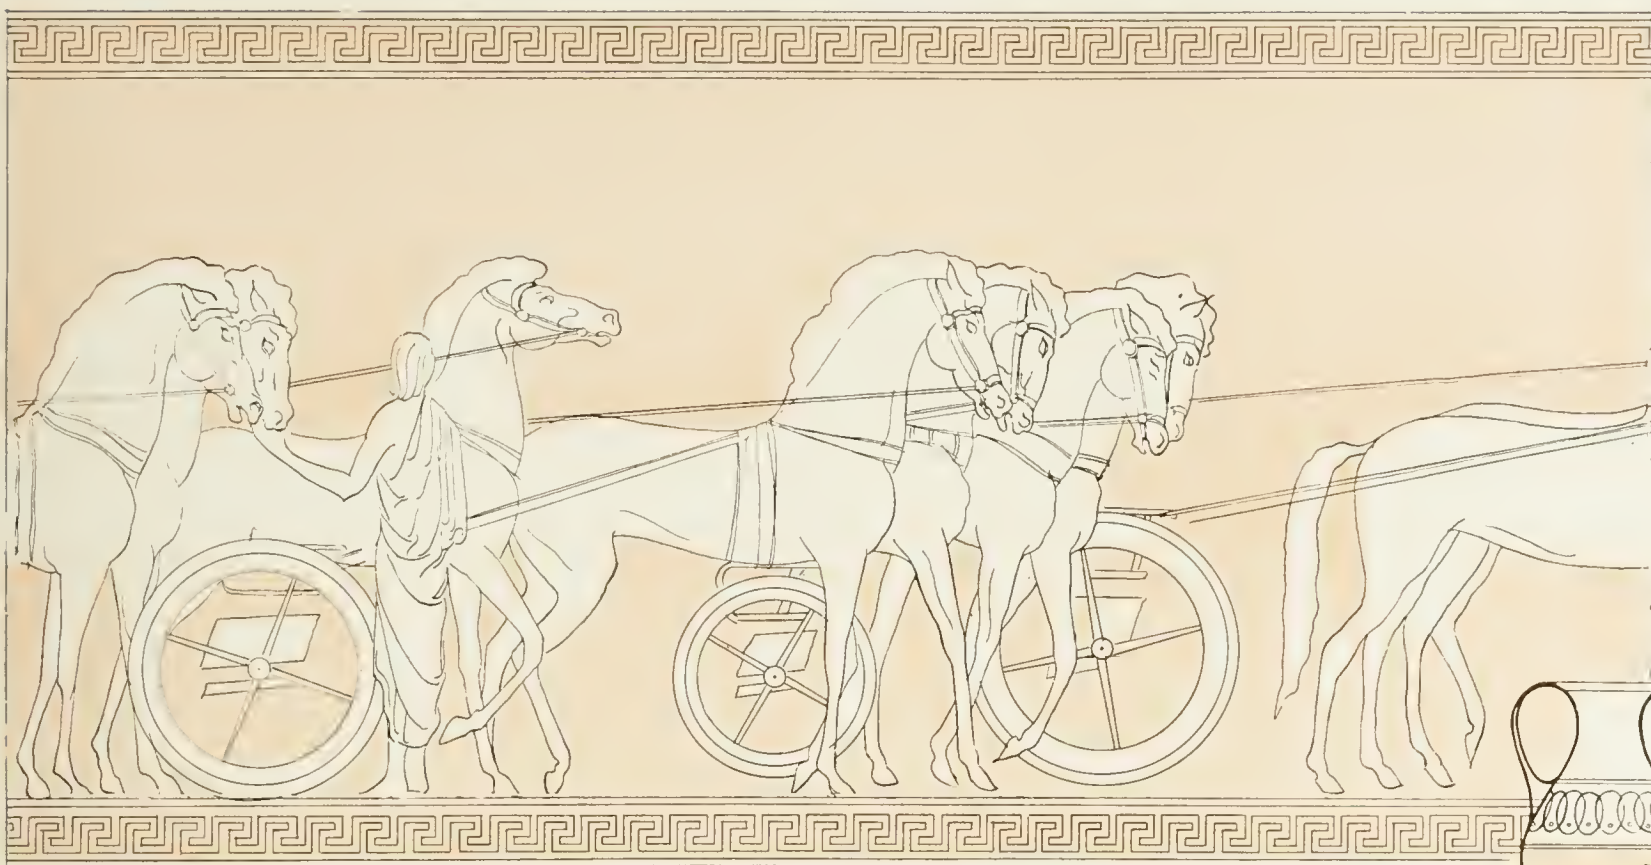

DR ARTHUR L. WOLFE

FOREWORD

Park has an illustrious ancestry. Time has inscribed its accomplishment in the annals of history. Between the Covers of the 1929 Narva there lies one more chapter in its already colorful history. To weave the spirit of Park in and out these pages, and thus to portray by word and picture, Park life has been the aim of the staff.

McAFEE		BROWN

*Crowning the summit with gable and spire,
Framed in greenery lush and dark,
Catching the glow of sun dawn's fire—
Here be the guiding power of Park.*

*Hill crowned and high the White House stands,
Sun warmed, green bowered—shady
And ever holds a welcome from
Our Prexy and his Lady.*

*There is the peace of reverence here,
To crown a life we all revere,
Whose gift youth's handicaps assuage,
In this our master heritage.*

*Here foregather our brighteyed youth,
To lift in praise the matin song,
To hear revealing words of truth,
That guide throughout life's journey long.*

*Hill and valley, city and plain,
High o'er campus in all its glory,
View of river and waving grain—
Over all—the observatory.*

*'Twas Byron sang of Hunger's Knell;
The soul's sweet tocsin—the dinner bell
And here repair three times per diem,
An hungered horde forthwith to try 'em.*

*Here mid the shade of ancient trees,
Uprising new—the maiden's bower—
Caressed by every wandering breeze
And dedicate to Morphean hour.*

*Beneath each columned arch of learning
Full oft have stood with hearts a burning,
Our youths and maids intent on knowledge
Diffused within our own Park College.*

STUDENT BODY ORGANIZATION

Logan, Green, Snyder, Esch, Long, Griffin.
Waterman, Thatcher, Young, Turner, McEwen, Todd.

The activities of the Park College student body are in the hands of four elective officers, a student council, forensic council, athletic association, men's Cu Cu Club, women's pep committee, and a sophomore committee for the enforcement of freshman rules. The student council, or executive committee, was established for the purpose of cooperating with the administration in the enforcement of the general regulations of the college. It is composed of the president, vice-president, secretary-treasurer, and cheer leader of the student body, and representatives from the athletic association, the forensic council, the Stylus, the Y. M. C. A., and the Y. W. C. A. A representative is also elected from each of the college classes.

ACTIVITIES

FORENSICS

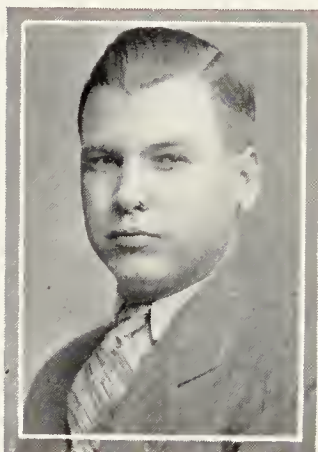

FORENSIC COUNCIL

Griffin, Fowler.
Finley, Siverts, Keen.

The forensic activities of Park College are handled through a forensic council, which is composed of the coaches of oratory and debate, a representative from each of the men's literary clubs, a representative from the student body, and the president of the local chapter of the Pi Kappa Delta. The council works in cooperation with the debate fraternity.

The council promotes intercollegiate forensics at Park, both in debate and oratory. Expenditure of funds appropriated for forensics from the student enterprise fund is handled through this organization. Programs at the debates and oratorical contests are provided by the council. Its members meet and entertain all visiting orators and debate teams.

F. H. ROSE

Professor F. H. Rose, as coach of debate, is maintaining Park's reputation as a producer of formidable debate teams. The 1929 season, which was Professor Rose's first year here, was successful, the debate teams winning two-thirds of the contests in which they participated. Park tied in 1928 for second in the Kansas-Missouri men's league, won second in the Kansas women's league, and achieved an enviable record at the Pi Kappa Delta convention at Tiffin, Ohio.

ORATORY

Witmer, Todd, Klein.

With his oration, "This Advancing Age," Webb L. Witmer was given first place in the Old Line Oratorical Contest at Park, thus qualifying him for competition in the State contest, which was held at Park this year, and in which he ranked second. Representatives from six leading Missouri colleges, one of them a woman, participated in the contest, which was judged by the coaches of the various speakers, each coach ranking all contestants except his own.

In the introduction to his oration, Webb pictured a panoramic procession of the youth of all ages, selecting those in the past whose contributions to all phases of life had made them outstanding figures. Admitting the possibility of justification for some criticism of "this advancing age," he contended that the standards of the great majority are as high as ever before, and the examples he depicted from the modern generation exemplified the spirit of idealism and progression.

Arthur Todd, who was judged second in the local Old Line contest, was victorious in the Peace Oratorical contest held at Park this year, and was given second place in the State Peace contest. Milton Klein ranked second in the college contest. An interesting coincidence is that in both contests the man who defeated Arthur in the State Peace contest was also the winner of the State Old Line contest. Dr. Forrest W. Beers coached the orators for the contest.

DR. F. W. BEERS,
Coach of Oratory.

MEN'S DEBATE

Blackstone, Tener, Dillard, Young.
DeHaven, Nelson, Fowler, Hess.

Park's schedule for the men debaters, under the direction of Professor Forrest H. Rose, for the year of 1929, included thirteen debates, four of which were non-decision, one of these being a freshman contest, the remaining nine being judged, with but a single exception, by a critic judge.

The regular debaters contended with representatives from Washburn and Hastings colleges and with Oklahoma City University, while a team comprised solely of freshmen met similar opponents from Kansas State Agricultural College—no decisions being rendered in any of these cases.

The first two decision debates in which Park upheld the affirmative of the Pi Kappa Delta question, "Resolved, that a substitute for trial by jury be adopted," against Baker University and the College of Emporia, were the only debates lost by Park during the entire season.

The same question was argued in the remaining debates, Park being consistently victorious, which were those held with Culver, Stockton, Westminster, Ottawa, the State Teachers' College at Cape Girardeau, and William Jewell, and the dual debate in which Kansas City Law School formed the opposition. These victories gave Park an enviable record, since the men's squad won seven of the nine debates in which it participated.

Russell Fowler and George DeHaven composed the team which represented Park in the Pi Kappa Delta Regional convention held at Des Moines, Iowa.

WOMEN'S DEBATE

Douthat, Schieb.
Pierce, Foster, Evans.
Burt, Broadbent, DeMoss, Eager.

The nine women taking an active part in the forensic activities of this season participated in six non-decision debates on the Pi Kappa Delta question, "Resolved, that a substitute for trial by jury be adopted," and engaged in three extemporaneous battles.

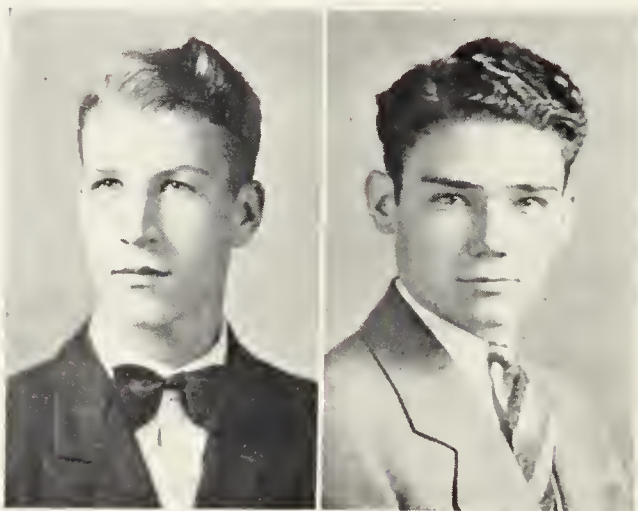

During February non-decision debates were held with the College of Emporia, Washburn, Ottawa and Simpson. The Park debaters upheld the affirmative side of the question in all the debates except the one with Simpson. Teams from William Woods and Kansas State Agricultural College formed the opposition to Park women in March. The affirmative side was contended by Park in both cases.

Three novel extemporaneous debates were held with Sterling, Friends' College and Bethany. "Resolved, that freshmen should wear green caps," was the question argued with Sterling, Park taking the affirmative. Again debating affirmatively, Park met the team from Friends' on the subject, "Resolved, that only students in the upper fifty per cent of their high school classes should go to college." The last contest of this type was held with Bethany, Park maintaining the affirmative on the question, "Resolved, that too much emphasis is placed on inter-collegiate athletics."

An innovation in personnel of teams was evidenced when a mixed team, composed of one woman and two men, debated a similarly constituted team from Cape Girardeau.

Two women composed one of the two teams representing Park in the Pi Kappa Delta regional convention, held this year at Des Moines, Iowa, April 10, 11, 12 and 13.

MEN'S DEBATE

Tener

Dillard

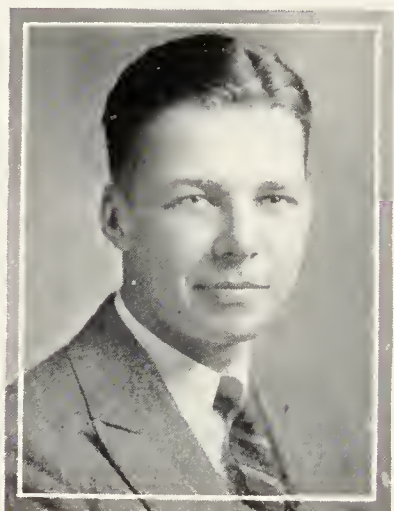

Reece Dillard and Albert Tener are first year men who have consistently taken an active part in the forensic organization of the past season. Since no definite personnel was ever fixed, both men debated independently on other teams, as well as working as colleagues on a three-man team. The ability evidenced in their work gives promise of fine material for next year.

Hess

Keen

Bartlett Hess and Harold Keen both made their first appearance from Park's varsity debate platform this year. Since Hess is a sophomore and Keen a junior, this team helps to brighten the outlook for another successful season.

DeHaven

George DeHaven came to the squad as a sophomore with a year's training as a background. He has greatly influenced, by his efficiency and power, the success of Park's forensic activities, in the field of oratory as well as in debate, having received third place in the Peace oratorical contest. DeHaven also participated in the Old Line oratorical contest.

MEN'S DEBATE

With the experience gained from a previous season's debating as a basis, William Young and Donald Blackstone, both sophomores, have played a conspicuous part in forensic endeavor this year. Blackstone, who re-entered Park at the beginning of the second semester to complete his sophomore year here, immediately resumed his work as a member of the squad and took part in his first debate in less than three weeks after his arrival. Young is prominent as an orator as well.

Blackstone

Young

Two other freshmen, whose presence insures a foundation of future debate teams, are John Calfee and William Nelson. Contributing to the strength of this year's squad, they show indications of greater possibilities for the coming season.

Nelson

Calfee

Russel Fowler completes his third year of debating with the closing of this season, and if the demonstrations of his present versatile ability and leadership are indicative of future possibilities, his forensic potentialities as a senior will add formidable strength to next year's squad. Fowler is a member of Pi Kappa Delta, national honorary debating and oratorical fraternity.

Fowler

WOMEN'S DEBATE

Pierce

DeMoss

Broadbent

Evelyn Pierce, Elizabeth Broadbent and Lois DeMoss, the only three freshman women on the squad, constituted a team which participated in an extemporaneous debate, and also worked on the regular question. All three girls will be welcomed to the squad next year.

Burt

Schieb

Eager

Always debating as colleagues, whether by themselves or as a part of a three-women team, Lillian Schieb and Doris Eager have made effective contributions to the success of the debate season during their first year of experience. Dorothy Burt is also a new member of the squad. Miss Eager is a junior and Miss Burt and Miss Schieb sophomores.

Douthat

Foster

Evans

Maxine Douthat, Edith Foster and Wilma Evans formed the strongest women's debate team of the year. Miss Douthat is the only member of the entire squad who will be lost by graduation. Her absence will be partially reconciled by the presence of Miss Evans, who is a junior, with the background of a year's forensics, and Miss Foster, whose ability offsets her inexperience.

PUBLICATIONS

THE 1929 NARVA

A Part of the Staff Gets Together to Work.

The 1929 Narva has been an attempt to put the year book of Park on an annual basis. Financially, the book has proved itself to be sound. If it meets the approval of the student body and faculty, then we, the members of the staff, consider the '29 Narva a success and are content.

This production represents the best efforts of twenty interested students who determined "to put the Narva across." In this volume we have endeavored to bring together the activities and events of the past year which are representatively Park.

WILLIAM MARKWARD

The '29 book is built around a classical theme, and is dedicated to Dr. Wolfe, who for the past forty years has been a member of Park's faculty as head of the classics department. Each of the division pages represents one idea of ancient Grecian life. These pages, the subdivision pages, and most of the other art work, was done by Donald Feerer, the student artist. The lettering for the book was done by Francis McMonigle.

The Narva staff wishes to express here its gratitude to Esther Street, Annie Lou Nicholson, Margaret Jones, and Bernice Green for the help which they gave during the sales season and at different rush periods throughout the year.

THE 1929 NARVA

McEwen, Feerer, Lord, McCance, Hermann, Saam.
Melcher, Dail, Blackman, Bible, Whitelaw, Lock.
Strode, Weinberg, Hrvat, Walker, Payne, Edwards.

The staff for the Narva was selected upon a basis of competitive tryouts. Each editor assumed full responsibility for the literary content of the section undertaken in the autumn, shortly after school began, and continued to work upon his part of the book until April 10, when the final copy was submitted to the printer.

THE PARK STYLUS

Blackman, DeHaven.
Crowley, Hermann, Bland, Nelson.
Feerer, DeMoss, McEwen, Smith, Slayter.

John Thatcher, editor-in-chief, and Russell Powell, business manager, were responsible for the publication of the Stylus, a weekly publication of the Park College student body, throughout the year. These offices are filled by student elections.

Three changes were made in the staff for the last semester: Feature editor, Bernese Smith; sport editor, Paul Hermann, and assistant business manager, Richard Bland.

JOHN THATCHER

Dr. F. W. Beers and his force at the college printing office are responsible for the actual publishing of the paper.

All Park students receive their Stylus on the Student Enterprise Ticket, and approximately five hundred copies are distributed outside of the campus.

Twenty-one men compose the present glee club which represented the college this year in concerts throughout the States of Missouri and Illinois. The club is under the direction of Professor Roy V. Magers, who has been at its head since 1904. The origin of the organization, however, is much earlier, having been started by Dr. J. E. McAfee in 1895.

The annual trip between semesters had Chicago as its destination. Nine concerts were given on the ten-day trip. In addition to the singing, readings were given by George DeHaven and magical stunts were performed by William Young. Armor Hill was the business manager. James Godard has acted as student-director of the glee club this year.

The girls' glee club is one of the newest organizations on the campus, having been organized only last winter, and for this reason does not as yet have much historical background. Since the time of its organization, however, the club has made several appearances on the campus, and has sung in some of the churches in Kansas City. Mrs. George C. Brewster organized the club and acts as its director, with Miss Mary Slayter as the student assistant. A spring concert is held each year.

The Park-Lawrence Band, consisting of a group of twenty-five student musicians, is supervised by Professor Claude O. Rader of Kansas City. The actual directing, however, is done by Duke Loucks, who was appointed by Professor Rader. Mr. Loucks has been student director of both the band and the orchestra for the past three years.

This year the band gave several local concerts, played several times in Kansas City and vicinity, and broadcasted. In addition, a trip was planned for the spring.

The organization of the band in 1902 was made possible by a gift of instruments from Mrs. G. A. Lawrence.

THE GANGSTERS

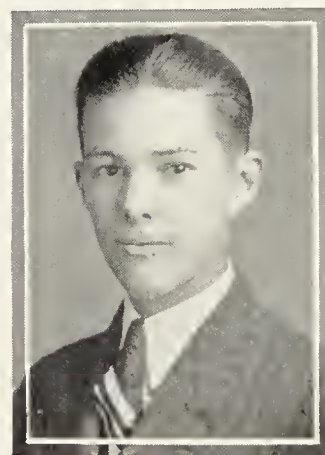

Howie, Cook, Englehart.
Walker, Fleming, DeHaven, Todd, Irving, Smith.

The Gangsters represent the modern musical spirit of the college. Despite the ban on terpsichorean art, Bill Howie with the aid of George DeHaven went about the creation of a musical jazz orchestra. Five Pirates accordingly ganged, to form the basis of the present well-balanced and modulated orchestra of ten pieces. Comedy and song must also be listed to their credit in the line of entertainment. The Gangsters are responsible for more than one chapel program, and most of the tempting music heard at club and dormitory celebrations.

PYGMALION

Enter Mr. Doolittle—a respectable man (?).

As Pygmalion, a king of ancient Cypres, created a maiden's statue with which he fell in love, so Russell Fowler, as the selfish, overbearing Professor Higgins, in George Bernard Shaw's satirical comedy, "Pygmalion," presented by the Junior class, transformed a beautiful, illiterate, London flower girl, played by Miss Georgia Miner, into the embodiment of culture.

Her education was undertaken as a result of a professional wager with Colonel Pickering—Ernest Escsh—that she could be presented as a duchess within six months. Unconsciously molding her in the image of the ideal he loved, it was nearly too late when he realized, that, loving an ideal, he also loved its personification.

Georgia as Eliza.

Miss Elizabeth Winter, the faithful housekeeper, Karl Hunzeker, as a specimen of the "undeserving poor," who was forced to assume middle-class respectability, and Miss Marian Taylor, the understanding mother, aided by Elaine Spencer, Harry Cook, Mary Elizabeth Gloeckner, Isabel Wimmel, William Finley and William Miller, all contributed to the play, whose success was largely due to the expert direction of Miss Ethel E. Lyon.

Russell as Higgins.

THE DOLL'S HOUSE

A Scene From the Play.

"The play upon which Imperial Germany placed its stamp of disapproval." Thus read a poster advertising the production of Henrik Ibsen's "The Doll's House," presented by a group of seniors, who term themselves "The Oslo Players."

In this play Ibsen treats of a domestic problem, in which he emphasizes the increasing independence of women.

Nora Helmer, exceptionally well portrayed by Elizabeth Wells, was the young wife who played at life without realizing its seriousness, until the crisis came, and her husband, Thorvald, the role taken by John Thatcher, renounced her. When affairs became straightened, he was ready to forgive her petty crime, but Nora, awakened to the inconsistency of his love, left him.

Doctor Rank, the philosopher and "friend of the family," was well characterized by Donald Agnew.

David Waterman gave a fine interpretation of the unscrupulous villain, Nils Krogstad, as did Judith Elliott, who took the part of the embittered widow, Mrs. Linden. Katherine Crocker, Dorothy Dey and Blair McIntire were also in the cast.

Elizabeth as Nora.

John as Thorvald.

THE SHOEMAKERS' HOLIDAY

With the typically elaborate costuming of seventeenth century England enhancing its effectiveness, "The Shoemakers' Holiday," a realistic five-act comedy by Thomas Dekker, was presented by the English 4a class, under the direction of Miss Ethel E. Lyon.

From the mighty king to the humble shoemakers, almost every class in the English social strata was represented. Especially fine interpretation was displayed by William Howie, the arrogant Simon Eyre; William Finley, the witty apprentice; and Norma Parry, the saucy serving maid.

Two romances, interwoven with complications, colored the action of the play—the elopement of Richard Parkhurst, as Lacy, and Alice Pitts, as Rose; and the reuniting of Arthur Todd, as Ralph, and Mary Elizabeth Gloeckner, as Jane.

Alice and "Dick."

The parts of Hammon, practiced gentleman in the art of making love, John Bouquet, and Sir Hugh Lacy, Ralph Blackman, were also well taken. Other members of the cast were: Grace Long, George DeHaven, Thomas Ireland, William Richardson, Christine Brandstetter, Bartlett Hess, Anna Chute, Paul Hermann and George Wooley.

"Bill" as Simon Eyre.

*Note—*There are no intercollegiate athletics at Park, due to the part time student labor policy. However, there is a program of intramural athletics.

ROBERT CRICHTON

Bob, through his agility and skill in baseball, basketball, and on the track, has won the admiration of his club mates and has been selected by them as outstanding in Webster athletics. He captained the basketball squad in the inter-club series this year.

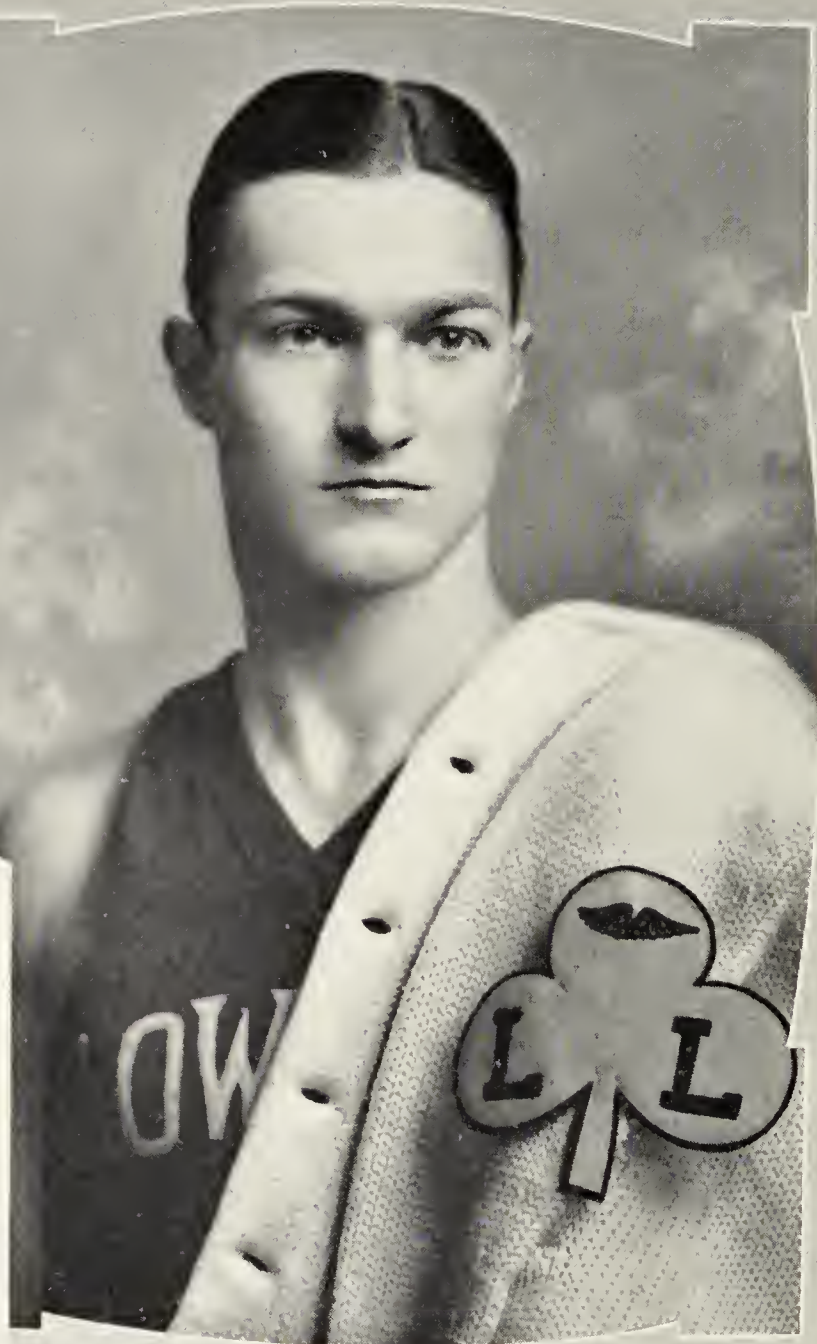

RAY LOGAN

Logan, during the four years he has been in Park, has excelled in the four major sports of the college. He won the cross country for the Parchevards this year and led the basketball team to a championship. Many times his mates have selected him their captain, and now they have chosen him as most representative of them.

RUSSELL
FOWLER

Prowess on the diamond, in the gymnasium, on the track, and a spirit of fair play were the qualities which caused the Lowell letter men to elect Russell Fowler as the club's most representative athlete. He is a track record holder, was captain of the basketball squad last year, and has been elected captain of the track team for this year.

MEN'S ATHLETICS

CLUB BASKETBALL

A very closely contested inter-club basketball series culminated this year in the Parchevards winning their eleventh consecutive championship. The Lowells finished a close second.

In the first round of the series both the Parchevard and Lowell teams defeated the Webster quintet, and the Parchevard five defeated the Lowell men. In the second round both clubs again trounced the Websters, but this time the Lowells gained the long end of the score from the Parchevards. This placed the Lowells and Parchevards in a tie for first place.

The Parchevard quintet established their claim to the title by trimming the Lowells in the hardest and fastest played game of the season. The score of this game was 21 to 14.

Thomas, Logan, Blakely, Thatcher, Murphy.

CLASS BASKETBALL

The freshman quintet won the class basketball series with three victories and no defeats. Captain Hal Divine had plenty of good material from which to select his men, and by the first game he had a fast team on the floor.

The new men began by humbling the sophomores to the score of 19 to 10. Two weeks later they upset the dope by trimming the seniors 13 to 4. The juniors gave them their stiffest competition, but in the last minute Hulsey dropped in a long shot, which won the game with a score of 12 to 10.

The juniors placed second in the series; the seniors and the sophomores tied for third place.

Turner, Campbell, Divine, Lowe, Whitelaw.

CROSS COUNTRY

The inter-club cross country championship was won last fall by the Parchevards. The scores of the three clubs were: Parchevard, 20; Webster, 58, and Lowell, 59.

Ray Logan, a Parchevard and veteran cross country man, was first to snap the tape. He was closely followed by two of his teammates, Case and Pumphrey. Logan's time of 23 minutes and 58 seconds was 2 minutes and 51 seconds slower than the record set by McMartin, a Lowell, in 1923. The race was slowed up due to disagreeable weather conditions. The day was raw and cold, and the heavy rains which had fallen two days before made it hard going over most of the course.

Pumphrey, Case, Logan, Whiteside, Kuns, Ogle, P. Keer.

TRACK

Last spring Lowell Club upset the dope and won the annual inter-club track meet by 2 points. The Lowell score of 52 points was closely contested by the Parchevards with a tally of 50. The Websters finished third with a total of 43 points. The scores of the three clubs were so close before the final event was run off that it was impossible to predict the winner of the meet. The outcome depended on the last race.

Six records fell during the day before the onslaught of the club athletes. Three of the new records were established by Lowell men and three by Websters.

Russell Fowler, Lowell, was high point man of the meet. He collected three firsts and a second, to total 18 points. E. Ross, Webster, and Thatcher, Parchevard, tied for second honors with 11 points each.

Ehrett, Weinberg, Fowler, Johnson, W. Kiel, Bailey, Coleman, Bertram, Kong.
Denise, Yates, R. Kiel.

BASEBALL

Parchevard and Webster were tied for the inter-club baseball title when the diamond season drew to a close last spring. Inclement weather caused the championship game to be postponed until the closing of school made a play-off impossible.

The "Parchies" defeated the Lowells on two occasions; once, however, only after playing for ten innings. The Websters also trounced the Lowells in two encounters. The Parchevards lost their first game with the Websters and won the second.

All three clubs are playing good baseball this spring, and a selection of the ultimate winner is impossible. The Parchevards defeated the Websters in the first game of the season, 14 to 8.

WOMEN'S ATHLETICS

CLASS BASKETBALL

With three victories and no defeats to their credit, the senior girls held undisputed claim to the class basketball title. The freshmen were a close second in the series; the sophomores third, and juniors last.

The freshmen girls were defeated by the seniors in the last game of the season by a score of 23 to 22. This one point victory over the freshman sextet gave the seniors the title.

Unusually good form was exhibited in some of these games. Both the senior and freshman teams had players of outstanding ability. Miss Louise Kempthorne, senior forward and captain, was high point woman of the series.

L. Kempthorne, Green, Callow, K. Kempthorne, Burr, Logan.

CLASS BASEBALL

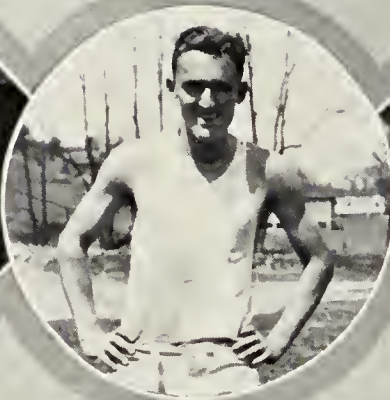

Indoor baseball was the principal feature of the girls' athletic program last spring. The senior girls won the class series, with three victories and no defeats; the sophomores placed second; the juniors third, and the freshmen last. Although the seniors won the series by a slight margin, the sophomores, as second place winners, were selected to represent the sport in the Narva.

After the series was completed a varsity team was selected from the four class teams. The members of this team were Wadene Foster, Komora Williams, Henrietta Doltz, Eva Logan, Louise Kempthorne, Rosa Burr, Dorothy Lundy, Eleanor Whitelaw, Bernese Smith, Kathleen Lancaster, Olive Peeke and Mildred Oien.

CALLIOPEAN LITERARY SOCIETY

Calliopean Literary Society was organized in 1896, when the members of the three organizations existing up to that time formed four new organizations. Calliope, muse of epic poetry, lends inspiration to the activities of the club. Calliopean, together with Parchevard, pledges loyalty to the purple and gold. The motto is "Practice, Perseverance and Success," and the flower is the Marcenial rose.

LUCERNE LITERARY SOCIETY

In 1896 a group of girls organized the Lucerne Club. They chose its name from Lake Lucerne and its emblem from the stone carving on the mountain's side above the lake, commemorating the bravery of a company of Swiss guards. They selected as colors the blue of its waters and the blue of the flower that grows on its bank. At the same time Lowell Club was founded and united with Lucerne to form a brother and sister organization. The motto of Lucerne is "Scientia, Eloquentia, Amicitia."

NATIONAL WEBSTER LITERARY SOCIETY

DELTA CHAPTER

Delta Chapter of the National Webster Society is the direct outgrowth of the Orion Club, which was organized in 1913. At this time there was a woman's club known as Aurora, with which Orion Club united. In 1923, after petitioning the president of the National Webster Literary Society, Orion Club became a chapter of that organization. The Webster colors are green and white, and the motto is "Conari Optima."

PARCHEVARD LITERARY SOCIETY

The name of the Parchevard Literary Society is derived from the names of the three mixed organizations which were dissolved in 1896—Park, Cheever and Bullard. Men from these organizations banded together for the purpose of continuing and advancing literary work. Parchevard and her newly organized sister club, Calliopean, chose as their motto “Practice, Perseverance and Success,” and as their colors purple and gold.

LOWELL LITERARY SOCIETY

The first meeting of Lowell Club was held on January 10, 1896, after the dissolution of the Park, Cheever and Bullard societies. Lowell owes much of its progress and success to its union with Lucerne Club. The two clubs chose for their colors blue and blue. The spirit of Lowell is typified in its motto, "D-I-G."

HONORARIES

HONORS COURSES

Walker, Dey, Lawrence.
Callow, Griffin, Emerson, Nordquist.

Seven members of this year's senior class, because of their general scholarship record and ability, as well as their special aptitude for independent study, were given the privilege of doing honors work in the particular fields of their specialization.

Honors courses were established at Park College in the spring of 1927 in order to meet the needs of gifted students and to provide opportunity for work leading to a degree with honors. Approximately ten per cent of the senior class is selected for this work each year by the Faculty Committee on Curriculum. The field of concentration is arranged by the department in charge of the students' work. Honors students are exempt from technical requirements and regular class attendance, but are required to pass comprehensive examinations, both oral and written, to write a thesis, and to possess a reading knowledge of French or German.

Alpha Delta, the local honorary scholastic society, was organized April, 1927. The purpose of this organization is to emphasize the values of scholarship. This group also sponsors an annual scholarship address delivered during commencement week by some distinguished scholar. Membership is confined to Phi Beta Kappa members of the faculty, to honor graduates of Park College who are on the teaching staff, and to those members of the graduating classes since 1927 who rank within the first tenth of the class in scholarship.

Lyon, Sanders, Wilson, Schall, Justus, Rose, Morrow.

Beta Chapter of Theta Alpha Phi, national honorary dramatic fraternity, was established at Park College in 1923 through the interest of "The Masquers," the local dramatic society. The fraternity desires to foster interest in the creation and presentation of drama in colleges and universities. With this aim in view, Theta Alpha Phi this year sponsored the presentation of "The Shoemaker's Holiday," a seventeenth century realistic comedy, and promoted a dramatic contest among the four college classes.

Beta Pi Theta is a national honorary French fraternity. Theta Eta, the local chapter, was established at Park College in 1926. Its purpose is to organize students who will, by travel, study, conversation, influence, and ability, advance literary French in America. Members are selected from among students who are majoring or minoring in French and whose general and French scholarship is above the average. Hoping to promote the study of French at Park College, Beta Pi Theta offers a prize to the member of the freshman class who does the most outstanding work in the subject for the year.

A NEW MASK

*Oh, Spring, long forced by men to masquerade
In forms fantastic, beauteous but strange;
Thou hast been painted as a maiden fair
Whose locks are garlanded with blossoms sweet,
Whose laughter smiles in sunshine of the May,
Whose teardrops fall in warmth of April rains.*

*Thou hast been named as opener of the gate
That looses o'er the world's sad, winter face
The flood of summer's gay maturity;
Thou hast been deemed but few brief days and short
That come each year and bring a fresh new life
To earth in her slow turn about the sun.*

*Still thou are none of these. But ah, I know
Thee for thy real worth, what thou truly art.
Thou art that strange wild thing in mine own heart
That makes sunshine look warmer than it is;
That lately makes me wish to let my hair
Blow free and whip about, combed by the wind;
That makes my eyes forever steal afar
And dwell on luring, mystic border land
'Twixt earth and sky; that makes me long
When passing by a new ploughed field
To throw myself to earth and thrust my hands
Into the loam to nature's very heart.*

AUGUSTA KIMPTON.

This poem was selected by Doctor Wolfe as being the best of a group of poems submitted to the Narva poetry contest.

GENERAL

MATTOON MATHEMATICS CLUB

Waterman, Wells.
Jackson, Boydston, Snyder, Laffoon.
Kempthorne, Burr, Smith, White, Dunbar.

The Mattoon Mathematics Club was established in 1922, through the efforts of Professor R. A. Wells, head of the department. The aim of the club is to promote interest in the study of mathematics and to afford opportunity for investigation of mathematical subjects that are not presented in the class room. Membership is open to any student majoring or minoring in mathematics. The meetings, held every two weeks, are devoted to informal discussions of mathematical topics, usually under the leadership of a student. The club holds a yearly banquet, at which there usually are toasts by the members and a lecture by a prominent mathematician.

The Wakefield Science Club was organized in 1926 for the benefit of pre-medical students, but has extended its scope to include all the natural sciences—chemistry, physics, biology, and home economics. Those majoring or minoring in any of these subjects are admitted to membership. The club attempts to promote an active interest in science. The meetings are devoted to addresses by prominent scientists from outside the college, and to papers and talks by Park College faculty members and students.

Organized in the spring of 1927, the Roy V. Magers' History Club was named this year in honor of Professor Roy V. Magers, head of the history department since 1912. The purpose of the club is to supplement classroom work in history with investigation of subjects of historical interest. The club this year extended its activities to the publication of a paper containing articles of historical interest by students and professors. The paper, entitled "The Pipe Roll," was edited by Miss Helen Burns.

Le Cercle Francais was founded in 1921 by Dean W. F. Sanders and Miss Charlotte Chantrelle, of the Modern Language department. The club endeavors to encourage and perfect the study of the language, literature, and arts of France, among students of French. Meetings are held twice a month, the programs being conducted entirely in French, and followed by games played in French. During the past year Le Cercle Francais has had many interesting programs, including an evening devoted to French art, and also films picturing French life and customs.

CU CU CLUB

Cook, Overhulser, Esch, Runyan, Waterman.

All is not serious on the Park campus. Periodically, as the little bird in the clock, the Cu Cu Club appears in chapel and by injecting mirth into the student body, fulfills the aim for which it was organized in 1921—the promotion of pep at Park. The members, however, are not content with occasional bursts of enthusiasm, but continue their joviality outside of the chapel. Not even the sale of their white pet could daunt this year's Cu Cus. The club is composed of the president of the student body, the cheer leader and six other men.

Y. M. C. A.

Logan, Siverts, White.
Blackman, Young, Todd.
Edwards, Feerer, Bee, Esch.

Under the presidency of Arthur Todd, the Park College Y. M. C. A. made several definite gains this year. The organization was instrumental in having a course in adolescent leadership added to the college curriculum, which course supplemented the work of the organization with the town children. The "Y" also planned for the production of a musical comedy with the cooperation of its sister organization. Prominent spiritual and business leaders were brought to the campus to give Thursday evening lectures.

A large majority of the men on the campus belong to this organization and participated in the various fields of religious and welfare work sponsored by the Y. M. C. A. on the campus and in Kansas City. The members elected Ernest Esch president of the association for next year. He, with the new cabinet, went into office in March.

Fifteen young women composed the executive body which this year sponsored the work of the Y. W. C. A. on the campus. The program began in September with the Big and Little Sister reception and the welcoming of freshmen, and included, in addition to the regular weekly meetings, group recreation, an operetta, and a May fete. The women met on Thursday evenings in the Francis Clinton Hut, the home of the organization. The motto of the Y. W. C. A. has been for the past seventeen years, "Honesty and Comradeship," and through comradeship it has striven better to know God.

The Ministerial Group is an outgrowth of the Student Ministerial Association and being strictly a local organization is made up of students interested in preparation for the Christian ministry. The purpose of this group is to bind together such students as are facing the great task of the ministry. Meetings are called from time to time so that men of experience can discuss problems of particular interest with this group. Members of the association participate in extension work—some holding regular preaching charges and others are ready to assist in missions and church work where it can be found.

The Student Volunteer Band of Park was founded in 1885 in connection with the Student Volunteer Movement for Foreign Missions. The group is composed of students who have decided that their life work lies in the foreign mission field, and the program is centered around the theme of carrying the message of Christ to other lands. As sponsors, Dr. and Mrs. Wolfe have helped make the band and its meetings a vital part of the college life of the members.

FLIPPANCY

AN OFFERING TO EUPHROSYNE

O goddess of the merry ways,
A boon we ask in suppliance bent:
That in this wit of modern days,
You see and know our heart's intent.

In pictured mirth or mocking jibe,
No wounded spirit we desire—
Our youth—a helter-skelter tribe—
That meets not half it should require.

Our friends, the butt of jape, lampoon,
Who illustrate this printed screed—
Pray goddess, put their hearts in tune
That they forgive our heedless deed!

For thou we know in sprightly wise,
Spreadst joy throughout thy witty courts;
To touch these maids of modern guise,
To take our jests as goodly sports.

We would thy ways but emulate,
Nor seek to shirk our need of blame;
But add unto thy honored state,
And offer tribute in thy name.

It is with pardonable pride that the feature editors present these hitherto unpublished views at Park College.

A PARK COLLEGE VERSION OF "LITTLE RED RIDING HOOD"

One Dey little Red Riding Hood decided to Cook some food and take it to her grandmother who lived in the Woods. As she was an ardent Walker, she was Eager to tramp over the Hill, across the Green Fields, and through the Dail. She had to Waid through two Rivers to reach her grandmother's house.

In the Park, at the Peeke of the highest Craig, lived a big Black Fox who was feeling very Moody. He saw Little Red Riding Hood stop and pluck a Burr from a Kempthorne bush out of her Blacklock-s.

"Ah," he said, "I will Slay-ter and carry her off to my Chambers."

With stealthy steps he Strode towards her. She tried to Ward him off, but she soon grew Haggard. Her Blacklock-s took on a White Heu as she screamed, "You mustn't Dou-that."

Peter, son of a Taylor, heard the screams of the Young girl and cried, "I would Chute the Fox but I have no gun. I must Risk my life to save her."

With two Long jumps he reached Little Red Riding Hood before the Fox could eat her. Vainly he Strain-ed, but he could not Kiel the Fox. Just as the Fox was about to eat Peter, a Bee stung him in the Shanks and then the Fox Ransom.

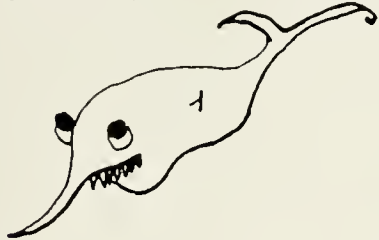

"Ma-honey," cried Little Red Riding Hood, "You have Risk-ed your life for me."

"Ah," exclaimed Peter, "I shall Christner Mrs. Peter."

And so they lived happily ever after on Campbell's tomato soup.

Donald Davis Herr Memorial

Donald Davis Herr Memorial Hall is the gift of Rev. Arthur Herr and Misses Mabel, Jessie and Jane Herr, in memory of their brother, Donald Davis Herr, who lost his life in the Japanese earthquakes. It is built in English style and retains all the gracefulness of that style of architecture. This building houses one hundred and four women of Park College. Combining conservation of space with the artistic, this dormitory presents the most modern type of college equipment.

Thompson Commons, the gift of Mr. A. O. Thompson in memory of his son, Philip Bruce Thompson, is so situated that it looks out over a wooded valley to the Missouri River, providing a view that is an inspiration. This generous gift, also of the English type of architecture, has done much to simplify the problem of feeding hungry students at Park.

Both of these buildings were constructed by Mr. Herman Fox of Kansas City, who has donated this space in the advertising section, not through any selfish motive, but as an evidence of his good will toward Park College, and his belief in its student activities.
